To Do Re DS Inte	Description	Common School System based on the democratic ideals of equality and social justice has been a cherished goal of Indian State. Until NPE-1986, the goal of universalising education in India was envisaged in conjunction with the goal of moving towards education of equitable quality. The adoption of neoliberal economic reforms by the Indian State has resulted in the dilution of the democratic ideals and the predominance of market principles. In this context, the Right to Education Act 2009 by depriving the 0-6 age group of right to early childhood care and education and by legitimising the multi-layered school system has formalised the demise of common school system in India.	2017
